THE NORTH CARSON CASE.

An Old Discarded Mining Property Looms Up in the Courts.

The case of the North Carson Consolidated Mining Company vs. George Bryson & Pat McCue is still drawing interested audiences in the District Court. In order to give a full history of the case it is necessary to go back a little.

Some years ago some discoveries were made in the mountain about two miles North of the city and West of the Warm Springs property, which justified the sinking of a shaft and the practical opening of a mine. The excitement over the affair was considerable in this city, and a large amount of the stock was sold here. The result was that after sinking the shaft about 400 feet with indifferent results, the stockholders declined to pay any more assessments and the work was abandoned. There was considerable growling over the outcome, and many of the stockholders claimed that the mine was salted. For many years the North Carson was only alluded to as a thing of the past, the Indians tore down the few buildings about the mouth of the shaft and the weather frittered away the dump pile. In March last, however, George Bryson, Sr., and Pat McCue jumped the claim and began to renew operations upon it. Hence the suit brought by the company who claim that they have complied with the law and performed the necessary work. It was developed in the Court that work had been going on for some months recently, and it is also claimed that the rock was hauled to Virginia City and sold to Joe Douglass, who paid $100 a ton for it. The rock assayed $600 per ton. It is generally understood that there are a number of prominent parties behind the jumpers furnishing the sinews of war for the fight; and the mine is believed to contain some really rich deposits which lay just below where the work was abandoned years ago.

Yesterday an interesting incident of the case was a personal encounter between Hon. William Woodburn and Mr. Dahl, who is suing on behalf of the company. It appears that Dahl consulted with Woodburn in Virginia City in reference to the suit and engaged him to conduct it. Afterwards Woodburn was asked to appear for the other side, but declined on the grounds that he was already the consulting attorney for the company. Mr. Dahl then engaged Col. Ellis, and yesterday Mr. Woodburn taxed him with his conduct and said that he should charge a consultation fee. Dahl made some rough reply and wound up by stating that he would pay no d— Virginia City lawyer a fee for consultation, and that Woodburn could go to h—. The latter then landed three or four blows on Dahl's face and the latter ran behind the counter shouting for a pistol. He was not accommodated with one, and the matter there dropped.

The jury in the afternoon examined the mine and brought in a verdict for the plaintiff.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla is designed for those who need a medicine to purify their blood, build them up, increase their appetite, and rejuvenate their whole system. No other preparation so well meets these wants. It touches the exact spot. Its record of forty years is one of constant triumph over disease.

Mr. Alfred Bourvier, the advance agent and business manager of the Bijou Opera Bouffe Company, called at the APPEAL office last evening. He has all the elegant gentility of a thoroughbred Frenchman, and if his troupe is anywhere near as gilt-edged it will be well worth seeing.

The Coming Attraction.

On next Thursday, August 14th, the Bijou Burlesque Opera Company, direct from the Bijou Opera House for one night, presenting their highly successful burlesque, "Orpheus and Eurydice." This ought to prove a great attraction. The present company achieved a in New York the phenomenal run of 150 nights at the Bijou Opera House and has just completed a brilliant engagement at the Baldwin, San Francisco.

"Orpheus and Eurydice" is an Operatic Burlesque, adopted from Offenbach's celebrated "Orpheus and Eufers." It is a merry, bright and sparkling. Offenbach's music is well known to musicians, but there are many introduced numbers. The libretto is cherty and funny, and abounds in absurd situations. The Bijou Company is strong both in talents and numbers, and "Orpheus and Eurydice," with its handsome costumes, lively choruses, brilliant dances and a bevy of pretty girls will doubtless prove what is termed on the bills, "The event of the season."

Eclipse Extra Dry is the only native Champagne equal to any imported, and but half the price.

Gold Excitement.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—Some excitement has been caused in the neighborhood of West Point by the report recently started that gold and silver had been discovered at the summit of Crow Nest Mountain.

The Miners' Strike.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—A special from Wilkesbarre says: There appears to be no prospects of a speedy termination of the strike of miners at Hazleton. In all about 1,400 men and boys are on the strike and all the collieries are idle.

Bodies of Infants Found.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—A Troy, N. Y., special says: Today, under the stoop of a house on Mill street, were found buried two cigar boxes and a herring box, each one containing the body of an infant. They are said to have been the children of Mrs. Joseph Herrington, who suddenly disappeared a short time ago.

Cleveland and the Independents.

PHILADELPHIA, August 8.—The Press says: The Independent procession has come to a halt. Some extracts which we print this morning give a reason for the unexpected change in the programme. Rev. Dr. Strong, President of the Rochester Theological Seminary, whose accession to the ranks of the bolters was heralded in every Democratic and Independent paper in the country, declines proceeding further in the advocacy of Cleveland's elevation to the Presidency. Col. Codomanno of Boston, whose zeal in behalf of the campaign run on moral issues was recently of such a roseate hue, thinks there is nothing for the Independents to do but to wait and find out where they stand; George Coe, a well-known dry-goods merchant of New York, has addressed a letter to the Chief of the Buffalo Detective Bureau, who formerly served with him in the army, inclosing the scandal about Cleveland. In reply he received a letter stating: "In regard to the slip you inclose me, it has not and cannot be contradicted. As to its truth, you can rely on every word, and not half has been told that might have been."

Kelly's Course—Hendricks Disgusted.

PHILADELPHIA, August 8.—The Press' Saratoga special, has the following items: I had two hours' interview with John Kelly this afternoon, and know I state his position correctly when I say he has positively decided not to support Cleveland, but to turn his forces to Butler.

A warm friend of Hendricks says that that gentleman has become disgusted. In speaking of the campaign, he has gone so far as to express his regret that his name should have been coupled with that of the New York Governor.

I met United States District Attorney McAllister of California here yesterday. He was just leaving for Alaska. He assures me that Blaine will certainly carry California, Oregon and Nevada.

The Press' New York special says: Senator Miller of California, who is here in conference with the National Republican Committee, today expressed to me his utmost confidence in the result of the campaign in California, Oregon and Nevada. Two more acceptable candidates than Blaine and Logan could not have been named so far as the Pacific Slope is concerned. They will poll a surprisingly heavy vote there.

Secretary Fessenden of the Committee said this evening that the Republican National Committee has decided not to touch the Cleveland scandal at all, but to leave it to the Democratic newspapers and the clergy.

Dealy has now settled down to business in his new headquarters where the best stock in the city is kept. Free lunch every day, and all old patrons of the place are welcome to the new club room.
